Lord, You are my shield, You are my glory, lifter of my head
I am saved, from all my failures, from all regrets, You have made me stronger

My heart, is enlarged by yours, through Your mercy, answering my prayer
In awe, I heed Your call, I see Your sacrifice as it makes me whole

Though thousands may walk away, You will never leave
Thousands may stand against, You will fight for me
Thousands may bring the dark, You will spark a light

Fear, I have no fear, for those with me, are more than they
With faith, as a grain, I will move, whatever tries to stop me
